

Page High School Compulsory Attendance Law Information

If a student has a total of 5 unexcused absences, a compulsory attendance law letter will be sent to the parent.

If a student misses ten days, excused or unexcused, then a compulsory attendance law letter will be sent to the parent. After ten days, medical documentation will be required to excuse an absence.

If a student misses ten consecutive or fifteen total unexcused absences during any semester, then the school must send a letter to the Department of Transportation and the Driver's License of that student will be revoked.
