ACADEMIC COMMON MARKET â€“ Uncommon Opportunities. Real Savings
Learn how you can pursue a degree not available in Tennessee â€“ yet pay in-state rates. As college plans are being worked on and finalized, many are considering out-of-state institutions but find costs prohibitive. The Southern Regional Educational Board (SREB) has a program that may help students pursue degrees in selected out-of-state programs at in-state tuition rates at over 150 colleges and universities across the South. Participating in the Academic Common Market is easy and free, requiring only that the student be certified as a legal resident of one of the 16 member states of the SREB and be admitted to an eligible program. For more details and to review a complete list of programs available, visit the ACM web site.

Common Application The Common Application is the recommended form of 255 selective colleges and universities for admission to their undergraduate programs. Many of these institutions use the form exclusively. All give equal consideration to the Common Application and the college’s own form. With 255 colleges and universities to choose from and one easy form to fill out, why would you apply any other way?
